Hi everyone ... I am sending this BCC e-mail to you ("BCC for blind carbon copy") to remind you of some details as we head for Summercore July 21-25-11 at Shorecrest Preparatory School

1) map of where to come is at

<http://www.summercore.com/sc2008/campusmap34.jpg> ... you may wish to print this out ... for those of you staying at the Hilton, directions from the hotel to the school can be found at

<http://www.summercore.com/sc2007/shorecrestmap.jpg>

2) Tip for out of towners? in St. Petersburg, the STREETS run North/South and the AVENUES run East/West ... every year, at least one person has gone to 54th Avenue South (instead of 54th Avenue North) and comes one hour late;-)

3) The school's address is 5101 1st St NE St Petersburg, FL 33703 and general phone number is (727) 522-2111

4) the workshop runs 9am to 6pm from Mon-Thurs and 9am to 12:33 on Friday .. we love digital time ... we hope to give you one afternoon off early, especially for out-of-towners

5) lunch and snacks are provided, except for lunch on Friday (after graduation) when you are on your own

6) Within the next 24 hours you will be receiving an e-mail from PBwiki.com. During the coming Summercore session, we will be editing the Summercore Wiki, so please open the e-mail you will receive from PBwiki.com and click on the link within the body of the message. You will then be directed to register for PBwiki; please complete the very short registration process. Please write down your login and password so that you will be ready for Monday ... feel free to add a WIKI entry ahead of time if you like!

7) the required reading for before Summercore is posted at <http://www.summercore.com/ChapterSamples/>

8) the roster of participants in Summercore is posted at <http://www.summercore.com/sc2008/> ... if you see any typos with your name or position, please let me know ASAP ...

9) my cell is 781-953-9699 and you should BP ("be proactive") and call me if there is anything I can do to help you ... if you are late or get lost, please call or text message

10) if you are bringing your laptop please label your electric plug and your laptop so that one of the interns can charge your laptop during downtimes happy Tuesday ... because of some e-mail problems that I am having and because I am a big fan of "redundancy" I will send you this e-mail from two separate accounts ... sorry to burden you twice ... see you in 6 days ... we hope you will arrive between 8:33 and 8:59 so we can start promptly at 9am ... Steve p.s. Lynne and I just finished our third Summercore last week in NY ... below is a collection of advice from the many marathoners there ;-)

 Remember to stay in the moment and don't worry if you don't understand something right away. Your instructors will help you unconditionally, and you will leave Summercore with a thorough understanding of everything you want to learn.

 Don't spin your wheels. Take a deep breath and ask for help. Don't fight the overwhelming feeling of it all; it comes with the territory.

Don't get so frustrated that you shut down. It is fun once to take the time to relax and enjoy yourself!

Keep an open mind and realize early on.....you will not master any one software. Learn enough to teach the basics and allow the learner to use their imaginations. :-)

 Work at your own pace! If you go too fast, you will get lost! Don't be afraid to ask for help!

Bring some headache medicine because you'll have a headache all week, even though it's very informative.

 Don't be nervous or afraid, you can do it. On Monday you may be a crying mess but by Friday you will be wonderfully confident, if not completely proficient.

Although it's a lot to learn and take in, focus on a couple specific items to really learn and master.

Pace yourself! Also, take in as much as you can. A week later, go back and look at your notes and you will find any other new things.

 Take more notes because in the end you might get confused on passwords, web addresses etc... or any meaningful things you might need later on .

 Have fun! Keep an open mind! Enjoy!

 Use your time wisely.

 You may be overwhelmed at times, it is a lot of information, stick with it, be willing to ask questions and you will learn so much.

 Hard work pays off. If I can do it then anybody can.
